Republicans Victorious In the State Election.

LAST Tuesday's election was a sweeping victory for the Republican State ticket. Gillett is elected by 10,000 or 12,000 plurality over Bell and the next Legislature will be overwhelmingly Republican. All the State and Judicial Republican nominees from Lieutenant-Governor all down the line, as well all the Congressmen, were elected by safe majorities.

JUDGE SMALL DE- FEATS GOTTENBERG

Dirty Politics Receives a Stinging Rebuke at the Hands of the People

The people of Sonoma, San Luis and Agua Caliente precincts sat down upon dirty politics in this township on election day and gave a stinging rebuke to Hoeker, Sprague, et al., who usurped the functions of the Republican District nominating convention a few days before the ballots were given to the printer and had the name of H. W. Gottenberg placed on the ballot in the Republican column as a nominee of that party for the office of Justice of the Peace of Sonoma township.

This combination of a "Senator," a pinto Democrat and a few off-color Republicans to gratify a personal spite did not work in a Republican stronghold as Judge Small, the regularly nominated Democratic nominee, carried every precinct by the following decisive majorities:

Sonoma—
Small	118
Gottenberg	68
Small's majority	50
San Luis—
Small	87
Gottenberg	43
Small's majority	42
Agua Caliente—

EL VERANO.

By Lone Jack.

John Serres visited in the metropolis Monday.

Messrs. Harry and Geo. Baines visited the City of Roses on Thursday.

Harry Granice, editor of the Sonoma Index-Tribune, was an S. P. passenger en route to the county seat Wednesday.

Frank A. Riser, the popular Pacific Improvement Company's manager at this place, had business in San Francisco Monday.

Wm. Chance, an employee of the Southern Pacific Company, came up from Vallejo last Tuesday to cast a good Democratic ballot.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Daughney were passengers on the south-bound Southern Pacific train Wednesday. They were en route to Oakland.

Miss Mary Minot, the charming daughter of attorney Minot of San Francisco, left for Marshfield, Or., Wednesday, after spending a few weeks here with the Baines.

E. O. Gates, our local lumber dealer, was married in San Francisco Monday. Mr. Gates has many friends here who extend to him hearty congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Westerfeld and W. H. Mangels of San Francisco were visitors here Sunday.

Mr. Westerfeld is a home-seeker and was so delighted with this place that he will locate here if he can purchase a desirable place.

Larry Larsen will build a forty-stall livery stable in this place for Jack Daughney. Work has already commenced on the building, which will be rushed through to speedy completion by a force of carpenters who is expected to arrive from San Francisco in a few days.

Rumor has it that a large contract is about to be let by one of our successful saloon men for a large skating rink and dance hall. This will be a great improvement to our town and a drawing card in the "good old summer time," as many summer girls come here every season with an eye out for "skates."

Impoverished Soil

Impoverished soil, like impoverished blood, needs a proper fertilizer. A chemist by analyzing the soil can tell you what fertilizer to use for different products.

If your blood is impoverished your doctor will tell you what you need to fertilize it and give it the rich, red corpuscles that are lacking in it. It may be you need a tonic, but more likely you need a concentrated fat food, and fat is the element lacking in your system.

There is no fat food that is so easily digested and assimilated as

Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil

It will nourish and strengthen the body when milk and cream fail to do it. Scott's Emulsion is always the same; always palatable and always beneficial where the body is wasting from any cause, either in children or adults.

We will send you a sample free.

Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

MAN RUN OVER AND KILLED AT SEARS

He Was Wandering Aimlessly about and Was Evidently Intoxicated.

The body of Justus Jensen of Petaluma was found lying dead alongside the railroad track at Sears' Point last Tuesday. The dead man's skull had been crushed in and he was otherwise mutilated. That he had been run over and killed by a train of the California Northwestern does not admit of a doubt, but as no one witnessed the accident just when and how Jensen met his tragic end will never be known. It is supposed, however, that he was walking on the track and was run over by the train from Napa early Tuesday morning.

The remains were brought to this place Tuesday night and the following day Judge Small, acting for Coroner Blackburn, held an inquest on the body. It then developed that Jensen, who was a bartender in Petaluma, had been temporarily sojourning at one of the many summer resorts in this valley and was just recovering from the effects of a protracted spree. The day before he was killed he was in this place and at that time was verging on delirium tremens and while in that state it is supposed he was wandering aimlessly around when run down by the train and killed.

The deceased was a brother-in-law of Chris. Jacobsen, a prominent business man of Petaluma, and was aged about 51 years.

The remains were taken to Petaluma for interment.

Wants Saloon on Broadway

A saloon, one of those horrid saloons, is seeking to invade the sacred precincts of the Rue de Broadway of Sonoma, the private residence section of the elite and the promenade of the bon tons.

"The idea!" exclaimed one of the fair sex who resides down that way and who has not the remotest idea of the pleasures of a "high ball" or the exquisite taste of a steam beer. "That Emil Alber, who has applied to the Board of Supervisors for a license to dispense liquid refreshments on that fashionable boulevard, will be confronted with a remonstrance when his application comes up for a final hearing before the Supervisors tomorrow afternoon, hardly admits of a doubt, in which case Mr. Alber's chances of having his resort overrun with 'growler' rushers, will be very remote."

These matters were continued in Department Two of the Superior Court Monday afternoon: People vs. Glatfelter, to November 12; People vs. Compton, to November 19; G. W. Wheeler vs. Richard Johnson, to November 12.

Cornelius - Doyle Boxing Contest

As the time approaches for the ten-round boxing bout between Cornelius of this place and Doyle of San Francisco, great interest is being taken in the contest. The men will enter the ring at O'Rourke's pavilion in this place next Saturday evening prepared to fight the battle of their lives. Cornelius will be backed by his Sonoma admirers, who have great confidence in the young athlete, who has yet to lose a fight although he has fought all comers that have been pitted against him.

Sweeping Victory For The Bonds

Proposition Wins Out in County--Vote Over 5000 For and 2000 Against the Bonds.

The proposition to bond the county for $280,000 to raise revenue for the construction of a New Court House and Hall of Records to replace those destroyed by the earthquake last April, was backed up by the voters almost everywhere throughout the county on election day if we except Petaluma, which exhibited a selfish motive in not giving the proposition the support it was entitled to. However, every other section of old Sonoma came to the rescue and with civic pride gave the bonds the support they were deserving at the hands of all fair minded citizens.

The returns from the various precincts of the county show that the bonds received over 5,000 votes while less than 2,000 were recorded against them, thus ensuring the necessary two-thirds vote to carry.

Two candidates for Supervisor who declared themselves against the bonds, to-wit: Jos. McMin of Healdsburg and Gaillard Rains of Petaluma, were defeated in their respective districts.

Santa Rosa, Glen Ellen, Sebastopol, Cloverdale and Sonoma, each polled a heavy vote for the bonds and it is due to those places that the bond proposition was carried.

Johnny Fridger is Dead.

John Fridger, eldest son of the late Jacob Fridger, is dead. He was born in this place thirty-six years ago, but passed his childhood and young manhood days on the Fridger ranch near Glen Ellen. He passed away in San Francisco on Wednesday of last week, his death being quite sudden and unexpected by his Sonoma relatives.

During a six-year's residence in the metropolis he had been a trusted employee of the United Railroads and was a young man of exemplary habits. The disease that caused his untimely end was typhoid pneumonia, and he was ill but ten days.

The deceased leaves a widow and a five-year-old daughter. He was also the brother of Daniel and Jacob Fridger, Jr., Mrs. Wm. Provines, Mrs. Anton Cereghino, and Misses Elizabeth and Mary Fridger, all of whom reside in Glen Ellen.

The funeral, which took place in San Francisco last Saturday, was a sad one. The remains were followed to their last resting place in Mount Olivet cemetery by a large concourse of relatives and friends.

The funeral was held under the auspices of Tamalpais Camp, Woodmen of the World, of which deceased was an honored member.

Young Mr. Fridger, who numbered his friends in this valley by the hundreds, was admired for his many sterling qualities of heart and mind.

He was a native of Sonoma and was but 36 years of age when his useful career on this earth came to a sudden close.

A Year of Blood.

The year of 1903 will long be remembered in the home of F. M. Tackett of Alliance, Ky., as a year of blood; which flowed copiously from Mr. Tackett's lungs that death seemed very near. He writes: "Severe bleeding from the lungs and a frightful cough that had brought me to death's door when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, with the astonishing result that after taking four bottles I was completely restored and as time has proven permanently cured." Guaranteed for Sore Lungs, Coughs and Colds at L. S. Simmons' drug store. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

CONDENSED STORIES.

Booth Tarkington's Little Joke at the Expense of an Editor.

Booth Tarkington, the author of "The Conquest of Canaan" and other popular novels, is known among his friends as somewhat of a practical joker. A good story of his Princeton days is related in the Bookman. The managing editor of the Nassau Literary Magazine at that time was a person who took himself and his literary responsibilities with portentous seriousness.

"SO YOU WROTE IT, DID YOU?"

He was wont to deplore the lack of suitable material at his disposal and to speak in accents of emphatic scorn of the quality of the submitted contributions from which he was supposed to make a periodical worthy of the senior class. One day he found in his letter box a poem which moved him to more than usual disgust.

"See here," he snorted contemptuously to a group of which Tarkington was one, "this is what some fool freshman sends in and calls poetry. How am I going to make a magazine out of stuff like this? How am I to ask?"

"Oh, that," spoke up Tarkington. "Yes, I sent that in myself."

"So you wrote it, did you?" growled the managing editor.

"No," said Tarkington sweetly, "I didn't write it; I only copied it. It was written by Tennyson."

Hint to the Governor.

Years ago, when John Wentworth was governor of New Hampshire, a man named Barr came down from Coos county laden with a tub of butter and a few yards of homespun cloth as a gift to the governor in exchange for an appointment as justice of the peace.

The governor received Mr. Barr kindly and inquired from how large a settlement he had come. "There is only one other man besides myself," said he, "and he is no more fit for the office than the devil."

The amused governor signed the necessary papers and waited some time for his caller to go, which he did not seem inclined to do. The governor finally inquired if there was anything else he could do for him, whereupon Mr. Barr said:

"If, when I get home, my neighbor should ask me what you gave me to drink, what shall I tell him?"—Boston Herald.

Bill Was Capable of It.

Justice Brewer's joke about Secretary Taft's politeness in getting up and giving a seat to three ladies in a street car is the same old familiar jest that used to be applied to Phillips Brooks. The converse of it is the story of a man who arose when a stout lady entered the crowded car and politely proposed, "I will be one of two gentlemen to give the lady a seat."—Boston Globe.

Tracing the origin of the joke, it appears to be due to the memory of Bill Nye to say that, so far as appears, the famous American humorist was its father. As he told it, he was riding in a crowded London coach when a stout woman got on and remained standing. Bill arose and announced that he would be one of three men to give the lady a seat. The point of the joke, as Nye told it, was that none of the occupants of the coach had any remote inkling of the humor of the situation.—Bideford Journal.

Some Drinkers' Logic.

Russell Sage was much opposed to drinking. He would often rail with homely and humorous wisdom against drink.

"Men drink," he said one day to a broker, "because they are happy, because they are sad, because they are too warm, because they are too cold. Is there any logic in that?"

"When I see men drinking I think of a little boy at the seashore."

"This little boy, at play with his bucket and shovel in the sand, suddenly ran to the edge of an advancing wave and, scooping up a handful of salt water and foam, drank it greedily."

"Oh, don't drink that," said his nurse. "It will make you thirsty."

"What if it does?" said he. "There's plenty more."

The King's Welsh.

The king, who was Prince of Wales for a longer period than any of his predecessors, is said to speak a few words of Welsh. There is a story told of a Chicago girl, the daughter of a millionaire, who, in the days before his majesty had ascended the throne, had determined to visit England. A friend found her studying Welsh, and in reply to a question the girl said, "I'm going to be presented to the Prince of Wales when I'm in London, and I should like to be able to speak to him in his real native language."—St. James' Gazette.

A Prodigious Egg.

There is being exhibited in Liverpool a prodigious egg, that of a tall, flightless bird—the Aepyornis maximus—which formerly inhabited the island of Madagascar. The eggs of this immense creature are nearly a yard in circumference and a foot in length, and their cabal contents, roughly speaking, are equal to six ostrich eggs, or 150 hens' eggs, or 60,000 humming birds' eggs, or two gallons of water. The market price ranges from £35 to £50, only twenty known specimens being in existence.

The Name "Dooma."

"Dooma" is a simple Russian word, which means at its simplest, "thought," "idea," and thereafter develops into the meaning of "council" or "chapter." If "dooma" is a house of thought then a "parliament" is a house of talk and "congress" is a house of coming together—a meeting house.

Be Charitable.

To your horses as well as to yourself. You need not suffer from pain of any sort—your horses need not suffer. Try a bottle of Ballard's Snow Liniment. It cures all pains. M. C. Roberts, Bakerfield, Mo. writes: "I have used your liniment for ten years and find it the best I have ever used for man or beast."

"High" Noon Lunches.

Talk about your "high" noon lunches. There are men in Gotham who would sit on the damp edge of a cloud while depleting their dinner pails if given a chance. On Broadway, near the Battery, every noon hour may be seen a dozen or more men who sit on the edge of a seventeen story office building and eat their noonday meal. The other day I saw one chap who had swung his legs over the coping and kicked his feet together, presumably in glee. I wondered at the time if he was eating pie.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

The Ostentatious Millionaire.

The great wealth in question being an essentially new phenomenon, its American possessors have no inherited culture and no inherited positions to guide them in their personal expenditure of it. It tends to produce a class which is held together internally by nothing but omolous extravagance in insane and self satisfying indulgence and which asserts its supremacy in the eyes of the general public merely by making this insane self indulgence ostentatious.—W. H. Mallock in North American Review.

"Curb" Versus "Kerb."

It is not more phonetic surely to spell the edging stone of a footpath "curb" than to spell it "kerb," yet Americans, one and all, write and print the word in the former manner. For "mellay," which used to be written "free light," there is the excuse of a higher refinement of manners, but to confuse a bridle and a paving stone is to add needlessly to the probabilities of an error of meaning.—London Chronicle.

The "Shopper's Face."

The "shopper's face" is one of the bills that the strenuous life has brought about upon the long suffering modern woman. It is described as "a fixed, tense, anxious, puzzled look, that brings wrinkles before their time."—London Penny Magazine.

Sells More of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy than all Others Put Together.

The following letter from a locality where Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is well known shows by the unprecedented demand for it that the medicine sells on its own merit. Mr. Thos. George, a merchant at Mt. Elgin, Ontario, says: "I have had the local agency for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy ever since it was introduced into Canada, and I sell as much of it as I do of all other lines I have on my shelves all put together. Of the many dozens sold under guarantee, I have not had one bottle returned. I can personally recommend this medicine as I have used it myself and given it to my children and always with the best results."

Please While They Rob.
The fakirs and peddlers have begun doing the country. Good crops always bring them. They are selling patent rights, taking orders for enlarging pictures, soliciting for books and maps, selling cloth for men's wear—cloth that "escaped duty at the port"—offering tinware or cutlery very cheap, selling soap and throwing in a prize and unloading worthless stuff generally. It used to be a peddler was poorly clad, but nowadays the peddler is a well dressed, prayerful, smooth proposition, male or female. He or she is smart, dressed neatly and ready to say grace at the table, lead in high five, dance the two-step, milk the cows or make the piano sing and talk. To please people while robbing them is the peddler's mission on earth.—Paola (Kan.) Spirit.

Always Was Sick.

When a man says he always was sick—troubled with a cough that lasted all winter—what would you think if he should say he never was sick since using Ballard's Horehound Syrup. Such a man exists.
Mr. J. C. Clark, Denver, Colorado writes: "For years I was troubled with a severe cough that would be all winter. This cough would leave me in a miserable condition. I tried Ballard's Horehound Syrup and have not had a sick day since. That's what it did for me." For sale at Simmons Drug Store.

An Ill Timed Lecture.

"There was once a minister in Hartford," said Mark Twain, "who had a lot of boys in his Sunday school who were in the habit of staying away on the Sunday when the big steamer City of Hartford docked in the morning. One Sunday the minister came down to Sunday school and found all the boys there. He was profoundly affected. 'Boys,' he said, 'you cannot imagine how much this exhibition of loyalty on your part to the Sunday school affects me. When I came by the dock this morning and saw the City of Hartford there—'

"Gee whizz!" shouted the boys in chorus. "Is she in?" And they left in a body."

There is no Reason.

Why your baby should be thin and fretful during the night. Worms are the cause of thin, sickly babies. It is natural that a healthy baby should be all winter. If your baby does not retain its food, don't experiment with cures and other medicine, but try a bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge and you will soon see your baby have color and laugh as it should. Sold by Simmons' Drug Store.

The Last Bulletin.

The editor of a newspaper in a small eastern town had occasion to visit Washington a day or two after President McKinley was shot and was greatly impressed by the bulletin boards containing the hourly condition of the president. Immediately after his return he had a bulletin board made and placed in front of his office. For awhile he had no use for the board, but the opportunity came when Deacon Jones, one of the leading men of the town, became ill. The following is the way the board appeared:

Monday, 10 a. m.—Deacon Jones quite sick.

Monday, 1 p. m.—Deacon Jones has slight rally.

Monday, 5 p. m.—Deacon Jones worse.

Tuesday, 9 a. m.—Deacon Jones very much worse—family has been summoned.

Tuesday, 11 a. m.—Deacon Jones has died and gone to heaven. Funeral at 3.

When the mourners returned from the funeral they were startled by another notice made by a wag-gish traveling man:

Tuesday, 5 p. m.—Great excitement in heaven. Deacon Jones not yet arrived.

Look out for that "rainy day!"
It comes sooner or later for so many—we can't tell to-day who may want on the morrow.
Prepare now while you are able for any disfigurement that may overtake you. Don't run any risks.
Here is something that will help you provide for the rainy day—an investment that carries with it mutual benefits and proves its value from the minute you buy the stock.
Smith's Cash Store is well and favorably known all over the West. Its reputation is of the best and in volume of business it is making tremendous strides forward every year. Some five years ago the stock was selling for $5.00 a share. To-day the price is $10.00 a share. These figures demonstrate what a thriving institution this is the biggest Mail Order House on the Pacific Coast.
Each share of stock is guaranteed to earn 6 per cent a year. But the greatest benefit is derived by the stockholder from the discounts given to the holders of five or more shares of stock. You can buy anything to eat, use or wear at the same price the goods would cost your local dealers. We call them "Owner's Prices."
Suppose you buy goods that altogether cost $10 at our wholesale rate. If you are a stockholder you get a discount amounting to $2.50, and your bill is only $7.50. The saving you will make in one year in addition to the earnings will in all probability more than cover the investment.
Year after year you will be effecting big savings. But should hard times knock at your door—and you must not be too sure that something of that sort will not happen—think what it will mean to you to be able to buy everything at cost prices. It might be the very thing that would help you to survive the period of distress.
We are increasing the amount of our capital stock. We are telling you about the stock because we think you ought to invest for your own sake. You couldn't buy stock in any other concern that would pay you so well.
It will not be long before the price of the stock is advanced. You know that means there are not many days remaining in which you can take advantage of this great offer.
For your convenience we are printing a coupon which you ought to fill out—it does not obligate you in any way. Send it at once.
